ARMISTICE FOR BURIAL OF DEAD.

Cessation of Hostilities for Eight Hours Arranged.

Balkans Nations Willing to Treat for Terms of Peace.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—An eight hours' armistice has been agreed to between the Bulgarians and Turks at Tchataldja, so that both armies may bury their dead, according to a news agency despatch from Constantinople.

The nations of the Balkan confederacy satisfied with victory, today signified their willingness to treat for terms of peace at the request of the vanquished Turkish empire. The lustre of their success has been only slightly dimmed by their temporary failure to overcome the rallied Turkish army at the gates of Constantinople and enter the Ottoman capital. The stubborn defense encountered by the Bulgarians at the line of fortifications at Tchataldja, and the realization that enormous slaughter would be necessary to pierce them at the point of the bayonet, with every prospect that their ranks would be decimated by cholera before they had attained success, doubtless proved deciding factors in inducing the conquerors to listen to the urging of the powers and refrain from pressing home their victory to the Turkish capital until they had presented terms of surrender to the vanquished and met with a refusal of their acceptance.

Simultaneously with the despatch to the grand vizier of their agreement to appoint peace plenipotentiaries the allied Balkan nations notified the powers of the step they had taken and thanked them for their offer of mediation. They added that mediation was no longer necessary, as the Porte had addressed itself directly to the Balkan states, which would now treat with Turkey without outside intervention.

That the terms of the victors will be drastic is known, but the European powers are doing their utmost to make them less harsh than at first mooted, without attempting to rob the Balkan confederacy of the fruits of its month's war. With the jealousies of Russia against Constantinople, with the recrudescence of the Austro-Servian difficulty on the other side of what hitherto has been known as Europtan Turkey, and with Rumania inquiring what she may expect out of the spoils, there seems to observers to be every inducement for the allied Balkan nations to keep their demands within moderate limits.

The occupation of Alessio by the combined Servian and Montenegrin armies, giving them another foothold on the Adriatic sea, is considered in diplomatic circles likely to add fuel to the flames of the Austro-Servian dispute which have again blazed up in a critical way.

Emperor Francis Joseph is reported to have remarked: "We are in favor of peace, but not of peace at any price. We cannot stand everything. The Austro-Hungarian cabinet has sent a sharp note to the Servian government at Belgrade, demanding a precise reply to all the questions at issue. According to the Zeit, the note was distinctly threatening in tone and it adds:

"Vigorous military measures will give emphasis to the diplomatic demands should Servia's answer again be unsatisfactory."

Some papers assert that Servia is preparing to concentrate her main forces on the Austrian frontier. Diplomatic circles do not exclude the possibility that the Servians, relying on the sympathy of the Slavs in Austria Hungary and on the support of her Balkan allies, may challenge an issue.

BALKAN ALLIES ASSENT.

Will Discuss Terms of Proposed Armistice With Turkey.

SOFIA, Nov. 19.—The allied Balkan nations today assented to the Turkish proposal to discuss the terms of armistice and eventual peace. The reply sent to the despatch of the grand vizier to King Ferdinand of Bulgaria says:

"The Bulgarian government, after agreement with the allied cabinets of Servia, Montenegro and Greece, informs the Porte that plenipotentiaries have been appointed with instructions to arrange with the commander-in-chief of the Turkish armies the conditions of an armistice, and subsequently to proceed to the conclusion of peace."

ALESSIO SURRENDERS.

Chief Source of Supply for Besieged Turkish Garrison of Scutari.

RIEKO, Montenegro, Nov. 19.—A combined army of Servian and Montenegrin troops today occupied the town of Alessio, near the Adriatic coast. Alessio has been the chief source of supply for the besieged Turkish garrison of Scutari. Although only a small place of 3,000 inhabitants, its possession is of great importance.

The Montenegrin and Servian armies met before Alessio yesterday. The combined forces then delivered an assault of such fierceness on the Turkish garrison that the Turks hoisted the white flag in the evening. The Servian and Montenegrin troops entered the town today. Their losses were not heavy.

GENERAL MUKHTAR WOUNDED.

Fight Along Lines of Tchatalja Less Violent Than Sunday.

CONSTANTINOLE, Nov. 19.—The artillery fight along the lines of Tchatalja was less violent yesterday than Sunday, according to report of Nazim Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief. Firing, however, occurred along the whole line of fortifications. He continued: "We repulsed the enemy's infantry, who tried to advance at some points."

Among the wounded who arrived yesterday was General Mahmoud Mukhtar, who was hit in the leg by a bullet. It was he who successfully attacked the Bulgarian left wing in the battle of Lule Burgas.

ALL FOUND GUILTY IN FIRST DEGREE.

Four Gun Men Convicted of Killing Rosenthal.

Judge's Charge Considers at Length Informers' Testimony.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—"Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Louie," "Whitey" Lewis, and "Dago Frank" Cirofici, the gun men charged with the murder of Herman Rosenthal, were all found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in the supreme court this afternoon. The jury deliberated only an hour and 10 minutes.

Justice Goff charged the jury in the case of the gun men charged with murdering Herman Rosenthal. If the state's informers committed the crime as the defense contends, he said, was it reasonable to assume that the informers would invite the gun men as witnesses?

"If Jack Rose had lied," he said, "in swearing that the gun men did the shooting, why then did he not go further and swear that he had actually seen the shooting at the hands of the defendant?

"These are circumstances for you to consider," continued the court.

As in the charge to the Becker jury, Justice Goff ruled that Rose, Vallon and Webber were accomplices. Schepps's stands he left for the jury to decide. "There is nothing in the law," he added, "to prevent you giving full credence to the testimony of Rose."

Justice Goff finished his charge at 1:35 p. m., and the jury retired.

STATE CLOSES REBUTTAL.

Judge Overrules All Motions of the Defense.

SALEM, Mass., Nov. 19.—The commonwealth, in the trial of Ettor, Giovannitti and Caruso, for the Anna Lopizzo murder in the Lawrence textile strike, closed its rebuttal at noon today.

Michael A. Scanlon, mayo of Lawrence, the last witness for the prosecution, testified that he did not hear Ettor in his speech to the strikers at the city hall urge them to conduct the strike peacefully.

Following Mr. Scanlon's testimony the jury was excused, while counsel for the defense argued formal motions to the court. One motion directed that the commonwealth be compelled to elect who fired the shot which killed Anna Lopizzo, and that if this is not done the case be taken from the jury. Another motion directed that all testimony bearing on events before January 29, the day of the riot, be stricken from the record as far as effecting the defendant, Caruso. For Giovannitti it was moved that the pamphlet entitled "The Industrial Workers of the World—its history and methods," introduced by the commonwealth, be excluded.

On behalf of Ettor, it was moved that the jury be instructed to disregard any testimony of the defendant relating to his economic ideas of religious belief. Attorney Peters representing Giovannitti, moved that his case be taken from the jury on the ground of insufficient evidence. He made an impassioned argument urging that Giovannitti's life should not be imperilled merely on the evidence of "two boy detectives." To send him to the jury, he declared to be unwarranted and a blow to justice. A similar motion on behalf of Ettor was made by Attorney Mahoney. Judge Quinn temporarily reserved decision on all the motions.

Judge Quinn overruled all motions of the defense, when court re convened after luncheon, and James H. Sisk, counsel for Caruso, began his argument to the jury.

TRAFFIC CONDITIONS INQUIRY.

Brandeis Says Shippers Wish to Receive Service Paid for.

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The desire of shippers is to get service for which they are paying, said Louis D. Brandeis, representing the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange, in an address at today's session of the Interstate Commerce Commission's hearing. The commission is investigating traffic conditions on New England railroads. Mr. Brandeis charged that inferior service was being furnished because of alleged monopolistic conditions maintained in the New England transportation field. He also said that several recent wrecks were due to neglect.

His remarks were occasioned by a statement by counsel for the Boston & Maine that that road was entitled, in view of its financial condition, to charge shippers for all service rendered. Witnesses for the Boston & Maine railroad were called by that system to show that the discharge of employes did not seriously impair the service as charged by Mr. Brandeis. The testimony was largely of a technical nature.

INTERNATIONAL INCIDENTS.

Serious Occurrences After Seizure of San Giovanni di Medua.

VIENNA, Nov. 19.—Serious international incidents are reported to have occurred after the occupation of the Adriatic port of San Giovanni di Medua by the Montenegrins Saturday, according to the correspondent of Reichspost at Scutari. The correspondent telegraphs that the Turkish troops evacuated San Giovanni di Medua on the arrival of a Montenegrin column and he declares that an Austrian courier from Scutari was fired upon by the Montenegrin troops. When the Montenegrin commander, General Martinovitch, arrived at San Giovanni di Medua Sunday, he ordered the seizure of the Austrian mail bags lying there and destined for Scutari. The Montenegrin general then told his troops, according to the correspondent, to remove all the mails on the Austrian Lloyd magazine vessel anchored in the port and he had all the other Austrian craft lying there searched. The Montenegrin royal yacht arrived in port to take part in the demonstrative possession for King Nicholas.

The despatch concludes that the Turkish troops intend to attack the Montenegrins at San Giovanni di Medua today.

CONFERRING WITH PRESIDENT TAFT.

Ask Federal Investigation of Railroad Agreement.

Rhode Island Officials Referred to Attorney General.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Representatives of the Massachusetts Railway Commission and of the Rhode Island Public Utilities Commission, appointed by the governors of their respective states, called on President Taft today to ask the federal government to investigate an alleged agreement between the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad and the Grand Trunk Railway, whereby the latter was said to have given up its plans for entering into competition with the former in New England. President Taft referred the committee to Attorney General Wickersham, and they arranged to lay their case before him later in the day, after which they will take up the matter again with the President.

The committee is prepared to urge that proceedings be taken, either under the Sherman anti-trust law or by the Interstate Commerce Commission, to restore competition between the two roads in New England. Members of the committee told President Taft it was their opinion that the Grand Trunk had stopped work on the lines which it started to build last February through Massachusetts and Rhode Island, to Boston and Providence, because of an arrangement with the New York, New Haven & Hartford.

SURRENDERED BY BONDSMEN.

Smythe and Ray, Dynamite Conspiracy Defendants, in Jail.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 19.—Edward Smythe and James E. Ray of Peoria, Ill., two of the 45 defendants in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial, were placed in jail today, because their bondsmen withdrew the security on which the men had been at liberty. At the opening of court attorneys for the bondsmen announced that they would surrender the prisoners, who then were placed in the custody of the United States marshal. The reason for the withdrawal of the bonds was not given.

Smythe, who is superintendent of construction of the city of Peoria, was formerly secretary-treasurer of a local iron workers' union. In Orlie E. McManigal's confession he frequently was mentioned as having assisted the dynamiter in causing explosions at Peoria. In letters quoted by the government Smythe was charged with writing to J. J. McNamara about "a visit of Halley's comet to Peoria."

SIX MEN KILLED.

Others Hurt in Train Collision Near Virginia-North Carolina Line.

NORLINA, N. C., Nov. 19.—Six men were killed and six others badly injured in a headon collision between the northbound and southbound Florida-Cuba specials on the Seaboard Air Line railroad, one mile south of the Virginia-North Carolina state line, shortly after 4 o'clock this morning. All those killed or injured in the wreck, so far as reports now show, were members of the crews of the two trains and express messengers.

The northbound train, known as No. 81, was due at this place, eight miles south of the wreck, at 2:40 a. m., but did not pass until nearly 4 o'clock. The southbound train, No. 84, was due here at 4 o'clock. The two trains met just outside the yards of Granite, a small station near the state line. Relief trains were hurried to the scene and the badly injured taken back to Raleigh for treatment. Information received here indicates that Engineer Beckham, on the southbound train, confused his orders for the meeting of the northbound train.

MANY WORKERS RETURN.

Crude Bomb Placed Near Hood Rubber Plant's Naphtha Tanks.

WATERTOWN, Mass., Nov. 19.—State officers Silas Smith and Michael Barrett assisted the local police today in attempting to locate a man who placed a crude home-made bomb near the naphtha tanks of the Hood Rubber Company's plant last night. The man was frightened away before he had an opportunity to light the fuse. The police say the bomb would have done little damage had it exploded. It consisted of a pasteboard mailing tube containing a small quantity of black powder, to which a three-foot fuse was attached.

Several hundred more employes were taken back by the company this morning and there was no trouble about the mill. All the operatives are expected to be in their places tomorrow. The factory has been the scene of labor disturbance during the past fortnight. Members of the Industrial Workers of the World claimed that they were discriminated against when the help was taken back after a shut down for repairs.

AMERICAN HELPERS THANKED.

Constantinople Being Successfully Defended Against Balkan Allies.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Constantinople is being successfully defended against the Balkan allies, according to the Turkish grand vizier, Kiamil Pasha, who has sent a cablegram to Oscar S. Straus, former American ambassador to Turkey, thanking those in this country who have expressed a desire to help relieve the suffering resulting from the war.

APPROPRIATIONS ALL APPROVED.

did seem, too, that there should be parks for women and children and playgrounds for sports. Once the boys could play almost anywhere. Things are different now and it seemed to be the duty of the city to provide playgrounds.

Mr. Dyer said if two places are needed the appropriation should be increased. He suggested $30,000. It was evident that two places could not be secured for the price of one.

Mr. J. W. Sullivan asked if the price named for the lot in view is not excessive and if it would bring more than $5,000 if sold in house lots. Mr. Murphy said the resolution did not specify any lot or any part of the city. The Chair said that was so.

Mr. Murphy said he favored using Freebody park for a playground. He did not think the city is now receiving much revenue from it.

Captain Cotton, in answer to Mr. Sullivan's inquiry, said something more than the mere land is required in a playground. Size, dryness and other requisites are needed. He doubted if $5,000 would buy enough land in the right location to make a suitable playground. There must be enough for base ball, football, etc.

Mr. Perry said it looked like another police station site question, but finally Mr. Kirby took Mr. Dyer's suggestion and amended by making it two playgrounds, one up town and one down, and, making the sum $30,000. This amendment prevailed and the question will go to the taxpayers in that form.

Next came the petition of the Beach Association, already printed, with the accompanying resolution for submission to the taxpayers. Mr. Dyer moved to lay this on the table. The vote was doubted and a rising vote was taken. The motion was lost—ayes 45, nays 94—and the resolution was passed. It is as follows:

"Resolved, That the following proposition be submitted to the electors qualified to vote upon any proposition to impose a tax or for the expenditure of money at the ward meetings to be held on December 3, 1912, viz.

"Shall the Board of Aldermen, under the direction of the Representative Council, be authorized to make additions, alterations, improvements and repairs to the buildings, structures and approaches thereto at Easton's beach, and to spend therefor a sum not exceeding $25,000, to be derived from the sale of bonds of this city, to be issued under the direction of the Representative Council, of such amounts, at such rate of interest, payable at such times and upon such terms as the said Representative Council shall prescribe?"

The following resolution for transfers in the fire department appropriations was passed without debate:

"Resolved, That the following amounts be transferred from one item to another under the appropriation for fire department: From items salaries $200, extra horse hire $50, dormitory supplies $25, total $175, to the item station supplies; from items apparatus supplies $125 and salaries $100, total $225, to apparatus repairs; from item emergency fund $586, to item forage; from horse clipping $25, to shoeing; from station repairs $15, to telephones; from rubber clothing $50, to fuel; from dormitory supplies $12.50, to printing and advertising; from dormitory supplies $12.50, to office supplies."

A resolution was received from the Board of Health for certain transfers of sums from one item to another—$200 from antitoxin to laboratory supplies, $25 from books and stationery to printing, $50 from fumigation to apparatus, $50.75 from repairs to labor on refuse disposal, $10 from removal of rubbish to supplies. This also was adopted without discussion.

A communication was received from the Board of Aldermen in regard to certain repairs and supplies for the ambulance, for which no appropriation has been made. $26 had already been spent and $25 more is needed. The accompanying resolution appropriating $51 was passed without remark.

A resolution appropriating $700 and adding it to the appropriation for Council and Board of Aldermen drew an inquiry from Dr. Brackett and an explanation from the city clerk. This appropriation carries all expenses connected with the Council and board, including the printing of the City Documents, which this year cost about $1,100 more than last, and that is the cause for the increased appropriation. It was voted without discussion.

An extra appropriation of $25 for "hospitals, sick poor,"—was voted without discussion.

Next came a petition of C. C. Moore and others for a granolithic sidewalk in front of St. Joseph's Church on Broadway, and an accompanying resolution appropriating $300 for the work. This brought an explanation from Mr. M. A. Sullivan, that the Council had already passed on this piece of sidewalk, but when the work was to be done the church was under construction and the money went back to the treasury. Now that the church is ready to have the sidewalk laid it was only re-enacting what the Council had already done.

Captain Cotton said the amount stated was not sufficient; it should be $400. It was a question if it were wise to start this work in this weather. A night like the present one would spoil the cement. Mr. Sullivan moved to make the amount $500.

Dr. Brackett said it was in accord with the usage of the Council to refer such matters to the next Council or to the street commissioner for an estimate, and it seemed under the circumstances that this was a good rule to follow. He moved reference to the next Council. Mr. Garrettson said the winter season is coming and it seemed desirable to have a granolithic walk laid before winter, if it can be done.

Mr. Sullivan asked if Dr. Brackett's motion was in order and the chair ruled that it was, the Council being a continuing body. The motion to refer was lost and the resolution as amended was adopted.

A communication was received from the building inspector, as follows:

"The unsatisfactory working of the present sign ordinance suggests the necessity of the repealing of the present section 200 and re-enactment of section 200 as passed and enacted March 6, 1911. I therefore suggest to this honorable body the immediate urgency and necessity of enacting the accompanying ordinance:

"An ordinance in amendment of the building ordinance:

"Section 200 of said ordinance is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"'Section 200—No person shall hereafter erect, place or cause to be erected or placed, any sign of any kind or material whatsoever unless the same shall be placed parallel with some building and secured thereto, and not projecting from such building to which it shall be secured more than six inches into or over any public highway or street, provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the marking, painting or printing upon any awning constructed according to law.'

"Sec. 2—No sign shall hereafter be erected within the city of Newport unless a permit has been granted therefor by the building inspector.

"Sec. 3.—This ordinance shall take effect upon its passage and all ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed."

It was adopted without opposition.

Next came the ordinance in regard to wages under city contracts, which read as follows:

"It is ordained by the Representative Council of the city of Newport as follows:

"Sec. 1—In all proposals for bids for work by the city of Newport it shall be therein stipulated that the minimum wages paid to the employes engaged in the doing of said work shall be the sum of $2.25 per day.

"Sec. 2—Failure to pay said rate of wages by the party to whom any contract is awarded shall be deemed a sufficient breach of the contract to warrant the said city of Newport in proceedings against the bond."

Mr. Dyer asked for an explanation of this. He thought there might be some classes of labor to which this could not well apply and asked if the introducer would explain it.

Mr. M. A. Sullivan said he had not introduced it, though he knew about it. The idea was to have those doing work for the city pay a living wage to their help. The contracts are awarded to the lowest bidder and the tendency is to cut down in wages to make good after putting in a low bid. It was thought that $2.25 was a living wage and that less was not. This is for laborers; other classes of labor could look out for themselves, as they have unions.

Dr. Ramsay asked if this would not affect the Board of Health's contract for towing house offal to sea. He did not believe the deckhands on the tug receive so much pay. The city solicitor, in answer to a question, said this could not apply to contracts now in force, but would to any made in the future.

Dr. Brackett spoke at some length against such legislation, which he believed improper for several reasons. One is that the city has as much right to say how much a contractor should pay for hay, grain and other material which he buys as it has to say what he shall pay for labor which he hires. Another thing: The Council is supposed to look after the interests of the city and not of the men employed by contractors. He moved to lay on the table.

Mr. Openshaw moved to amend, by making it $2.25 for an 8-hour day.

The motion to lay on the table was lost: 42 ayes, 79 nays.

Mr. T. J. Williams considered this one of the best resolutions ever before the body. He thought a minimum wage a proper thing, and that it is the duty of the Council to protect workmen and not allow contractors to beat them down in wages.

Mr. Garrettson thought $2.50 would be better. He said he knew how dear provisions and meats are and he could not see how men with wives and children could subsist on less than $2.50.

Mr. J. F. Sullivan favored the ordinance. He said he pays his drivers more than the ordinance requires. If he bids on contracts he is handicapped by bidding against a man who pays less. He thought this wage low enough.

Mr. Voigt said store-keepers know that workmen are receiving less than enough to live on. He believed the city should do its part toward having living wages paid and he thought this a fair wage. He said he hoped some of the rich people who pay their gardeners such low wages would also see the need of paying men enough to enable them to live. Some are paid as low as $50 to $55 a month and have work only a part of the year.

The ordinance was amended by add-

SPLENDID AND SATISFYING.

Sousa Concert Full of Sweetness, Noble Harmonies and Skillful Work.

Fifty Performers, in Band or in Solo, and Every One of Them a Past Master.

One hardly knows where to begin when he would write of the Sousa concert. It was a pity for anybody to fail to hear it. Such sweetness, such a whirlwind of difficult passages mastered so gracefully, such noble harmonies, such an all prevading satisfaction which grew the more it was contemplated—here indeed was richness, and an overflowing abundance of it, in every part of the big range from the great, sweet, sometimes almost inaudible, basses, through the reeds and brasses of all sorts, up to the little pinnacle of the piccolo. The harp should also be mentioned, for it was of much value in making some tone colors, and in other ways. There were 50 performers, and every one a "past master." Such words as delightful seem extremely pale after such a taste of what really seems too beautiful, too splendid and too satisfying for this mundane sphere.

A Liszt rhapsodie by a brass band? No—unless it is Sousa. Then, by all means, yes. And it was not so noisy as many a pupil tries to make it on the piano. The gentle flute, the harp, the clarinet, the reedy tone of the wood-wind, those were some of the beauties of this number. A spirited march was given for an encore.

Mr. Herbert Clarke's cornet solo, "The Southern Cross," was as far above the ordinary cornet solo as the land is above most others. Not the least approach to mere noise, or finger and tongue gymnastics. All was sweet, refined, beautiful, and the accompaniment was about perfection. The solo clarinet held the audience with a remarkable cadenza, ending in such soft and sweet tones as hundreds of people have never heard.

Very interesting was the suite by Mr. Sousa, and it received deserved applause. The first picture was of the Kaffir dancers, and quaint indeed was the piping of the Kaffir girl, as represented by the oboe with appropriate accompaniment. The "Land of the Golden Fleece," illustrating a bit of an idyl from A. G. Stevens's Australian poems, was a captivating waltz movement; and the "Grand Promenade at the White House" proved to be a grand march, as distinguished from the military or quick march. A deserved encore brought Sousa's latest, "The Gliding Girl," quite different from the march style.

The next number furnished opportunity for criticism—and indeed amid such perfect surroundings it seems as if there must be some mistake in saying this. Pretty Miss Virginia Root sang a soprano solo, "The Voice of Spring," by Strauss, a waltz song. She is an accomplished and good singer, who pleased the audience; but she did not have the opportunity she would have had if the accompaniment had been less voluminous. Fifteen or 20 wind instruments, even of Sousa's, were too much, and covered her pretty voice.

The Largo from Dvorak's "New World" symphony was full of rich and varied tone color. There were chords in the lower registers; subdued, strange effects from the French horns; soft echoes from the muted cornets, a wonderful diminuendo and the faintest whisper of a pianissimo on the horns, clarinet solos; muted, weird harmonies leading up to a great crash of tone—a chaos of strange beauties, as the composer intended it to be—and all splendidly given. An encore brought another march, "Fairest of the Fair."

A dainty little bit, and something very new, an "Entre Act" from the coming popular opera, "Jewels of the Madonna," by Wolf-Ferrari, was much enjoyed. The flute was beautiful, and so was the euphonium solo; and some rich string effects were produced by the reeds. As an encore came the "freak" number of the concert, but even this kept above a low plane, though it was based on so ordinary a theme as "Everybody's doing it." Everybody had his turn, all right, and some amusing things resulted. Perhaps the funniest of all was when the theme was belabored out of the kettledrums. Even the Mendelssohn and Wagner wedding music was briefly introduced.

Another new number was Jessel's "Parade of the Tin Soldiers," which was very pretty, and this was followed by a new Sousa March written for "our friends the Australians" and called "The Federal." An encore brought the good old "Stars and Stripes" march. The Sousa style was followed by having three piccolos come forward, then six cornets, and six slide trombones, making a line crowding the whole front of the stage.

Miss Nicoline Zedeler gave a violin solo which brought out a good deal of the most beautiful music of the concert. She is an all-round violinist, playing at one time both solo and accompaniment, and in a perfectly satisfactory manner. Her double-stopping was fine, and her rapid work was good, too. The accompaniment was a little lighter, and so she had a better opportunity than did the soprano soloist. Her number was a fantasie by Sarasate on parts of that fine old opera, Gounod's "Faust;" and its remarkably beautiful harmonies and melodies were done full justice, and more, by both soloist and accompaniment. The bass did beautiful work, the bassoon was sweet and tender, and the clarinet deserved mention, too. One of the lovely andante movements of the opera was included in the selection. A persistent encore followed, and Miss Zedeler played, with accompaniment of harp only (and it was very beautiful) another selection.

The finale was a brilliant one—a caprice, "Folie Bergere," by Fletcher. The following is an approximate list of the instruments of this splendid band—and one feels like giving words of praise for every one, while the big "technique," the lovely blending and perfect balance, defy description: Three flutes or piccolos, one E flat clarinet, 12 B flat clarinets, two oboes, one alto clarinet, one bass clarinet, two bassoons, three saxophones, four horns, two cornets, four keyed trumpets, four slide trombones, two euphoniums, three basses, three drums, etc., one harp.

The band came and went in its own cars, a special baggage car being required to carry the carefully boxed instruments, etc.

THE WABASH OFF THE NAVAL LIST.

The old wooden warship, Wabash of Civil War fame, for 40 years receiving ship at the Boston navy yard, has been stricken from the naval list. GERRY ELECTED TO CONGRESS.

State Returning Board's Count Gives Plurality of 993—John F. Smithers to be Secretary.

Peter Goelet Gerry of this city is elected to Congress from the Second Congressional district by a plurality of 393. This result was determined by the State Returning Board Monday afternoon, upon the complete tabulation of the votes of that district. The total vote was, Gerry 10,728, Bliss 10,335. Mr. Gerry made a gain of 96 votes over the wardens' returns, which gave him 297.

Claude C. Bull, the Progressive candidate for Congress, polled 3,042 votes, and Lawton, the Prohibition candidate, received 239. There were 2,613 ballots cast in which the voter failed to choose a candidate for Congress, and these were recorded as blank. There were also 230 defective ballots for Congressman, and the total number cast for this office was 27,827.

Immediately after the election was declared by Chairman Lawton, William H. Thornley addressed the board in behalf of the watchers for Mr. Gerry and thanked the members for the uniform courtesy and great patience manifested in the count. Mr. Thornley said it was a great pleasure to deal with the board.

The State Returning Board Monday also completed the count of the votes in Warwick, Westerly, South Kingstown, East Providence and West Greenwich, making no material changes in the wardens' figures.

Congressman-elect Gerry Monday evening announced the appointment of John F. Smithers to be his secretary during his Congressional term. Mr. Smithers filled the same position for the late Congressman D. L. D. Granger. The new appointee is well known in Providence, having been prominent in Democratic politics for some time past. He managed Mr. Gerry's campaign and from early in October took an active part in the fight waged throughout the Second district. His consistent and aggressive work in this capacity impressed Mr. Gerry favorably and resulted in his appointment to the secretaryship.

Mr. Smithers was born in Providence May 17, 1886, and still lives in the home in which he was born. He received his education in the public schools, the University of Michigan, and at Georgetown Law School, where he completed a course in law.

In 1902 Mr. Granger, who was then mayor, selected the young man to be his assistant in his office. The following November Mr. Granger was elected to Congress and Mr. Smithers was appointed secretary by him. He served four years in this capacity and finally resigned his position to take up a law course at Georgetown. He was admitted to the bar May 5 of last year, and since that time has been a practicing attorney.

NEWPORT ORDERS 56,000 CHRISTMAS SEALS.

Orders for Red Cross Christmas seals are now coming to the office of the Rhode Island Anti-Tuberculosis Association, state agents of the American Red Cross. The following orders have been received: Newport, 56,000; Warren, 12,500; North Providence, 7,500; Smithfield, 10,000; Johnston, 10,000; Pawtucket, 100,000. IF I DIE FIRST.

[Charles Mackay in London Illustrated News.]

If I die first, dear love,
My mournful soul made free,
Shall sit at heaven's high portal
To watch and wait for thee.
To watch and wait for thee, love,
And through the deep, dark space
To peer, with human longings,
For thy radiant face.

Mid all the stars of heaven,
One only shall I see—
The earth, star of my passion,
Half heaven for holding thee—
All heaven for holding thee, love,
And brightest of the spheres,
By thy dear smile illumined,
Or hallowed by thy tears.

If I die first, dear love,
I feel that this shall be,
For heaven will not be heaven
Until it's shared with thee—
Until it's shared with thee—
I'll linger at the gate,
Or be thy guardian angel
To teach thee how to wait.

And when thine hour shall come,
And through the yielding night
I see thy happy spirit
Up-soaring, robed in light,
Mine shall go forth to meet thee,
And through the eternal door
Pass in with thee, rejoicing,
Made one forevermore.

HOME RULE DISPUTE SETTLED.

Prime Minister Asquith Adopts New Method of Procedure With Bill.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—An amicable arrangement of the home rule quarrel in the House of Commons was brought about today, when the dispute as to the government method of procedure, which led to such disorder last week, was settled.

The government announced this afternoon its intention of reaching the end it desired by a more roundabout means, and his Colleagues having made good their demands for the observance of precedent, raised no objection. Premier Asquith attributed his change of mind "partly to repugnance at a possible recurrence of disorder and partly to a desire not to ignore the appeal of the Chair."

The House of Commons then, on the motion of the premier, negatived its original financial resolution, the amendment of which by Sir Frederick Banbury in committee led to the trouble. Another resolution will be substituted for it.

The net result of the squabble will be to delay the progress of the home rule bill for 10 days.

Sweaters For the Children.

Here is another good bargain. This time it is for the children and every boy and girl who sees these Sweater Coats will want one. These are not thin loosely made garments but heavy shapely little coats knitted in a good plain stitch and warm and durable. The colors are grey and Navy blue, the best colors for hard service. No sweater on the market selling at this price can compare with these coats but owing to the warm weather a manufacturer found himself overstocked and, as a result, we procured them at a low price for cash. Now the weather is cold, the children will want warm garments for school and play time and here they are at 69c each.

Don't let this opportunity pass but make the children warm and happy. Get one of these sweaters today while we have a complete line of sizes.

We also have a splendid line of sweaters for the grown ups in the newest styles and colors from

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.

The Daily News is on sale in Providence the evening of publication at Union Station.

A GOOD POLICE STATION SITE.

The proposal to locate a new police station on the south side of Market square met marked approval in the Representative Council and will undoubtedly find favor among the citizens. It would keep the station in the general location which is regarded as the most central and most advantageous, amid surroundings which make it least objectionable to neighbors. In addition, it would pave the way for the opening of Market Square to the water, thus giving the city another public parkway, which in the end would undoubtedly lead to further improvements in the vicinity. The plan seems a good solution of the situation The need of a new police station is universally recognized and the sooner the Representative Council can agree upon a site and begin work the better it will be for the city.

THE TURKISH TROOPS.

Since the beginning of wars there was never a more plaintive message from the commander of a great army, responsible for the safety of his capital, than that of Nazim Pasha to his government: "My sword melted in my hands."

What is the cause? It is not cowardice. In all wars the Turkish troops have shown the utmost courage. More likely the trouble is with the officers. The harem is not a good place for breeding men of endurance and resolution. The European veneer which covers so many of the younger generations of Turks is not a valuable decoration. In being modernized they have lost much of the sturdiness of the Ottoman stock and have not acquired the most useful qualities of the West.

The Turkish army has been weak in officers ever since modern weapons and strategy were introduced. Turkish soldiers have fought magnificently under European officers and repeatedly failed contemptibly under their own. Favoritism and graft have permeated the Turkish military establishment. In the war with Russia the troops fought admirably at Plevna under Osman Pasha, but it must be remembered that that was purely a defensive struggle. They managed to hold a strongly fortified place for several months against repeated attacks. At no time did the Turkish armies make any impression on the offensive. In none of the campaigns was the strategy of the Turkish commanders noticeable.

It is not to be wondered that French observers attribute the success of the Bulgarians to their French artillery, while the Turks have German artillery, but it is impossible to regard this as adequate, even if the French guns be much superior. Perhaps it is natural enough that the English observers should regard the German system of training to which the Turkish troops have been subjected as a weakness. Yet if the world has been in the habit for 42 years of over-estimating the value of German military methods, it is impossible to regard this system of discipline as destructive of the fighting qualities of the Turkish armies.

The Turks have not produced an adequate supply of competent officers and have failed worse with the staff than with the line. The Japanese are about to make 14-inch guns for their war vessels, and yet the Turks are dependent upon foreigners even for their field artillery. So are the Bulgarians, but the difference is that they have only within a few years had a government and an army of their own. They have not yet had time to develop the heavier industries, and being a small nation it may be that they can never develop the iron and steel industry sufficiently to become independent of Creusot or the Krupp works. This sort of excuse cannot be made for the Turks.

In addition, the Turks have not shown mechanical aptitude, for which there is an enormous demand in modern war. They have not displayed business ability of a high order, and modern war calls for the greatest talents of administration. They have not taken to finance, or manufactures, and carry on no great industries. Therefore they are unable to establish and maintain an adequate transportation service for their armies or to keep the firing line supplied with food and ammunition. If, in addition thereto, there has been corruption and fraud in military supplies, the Turks have suffered as nearly all armies suffer more or less, but the extent of corruption in their military and civil service warrants the suspicion that where all nations suffer a little the Turks suffer systematically and vitally.

Then, too, there is the question of patriotism. The Turks have race pride and religious pride, but it is something of a question whether they have any such patriotism as the Japanese have shown and as the Bulgarians, now for the first time enjoying an opportunity of securing revenge for centuries of oppression, are showing. The Turk still has courage and endurance, but he has not developed great commanders or great administrators; his medical department, his quartermaster's department, his ordnance department and his commissariat have gone to pieces at the first heavy blow, although all the fighting has been near the seat of government, from which it ought to have been easy to forward complete supplies to the army. Nazim's sword melts because his men are left without bread and cartridges.

OPEN CARS IN WINTER.

The agitation which has been started in favor of the running of open street cars all winter is only the natural result of the poor ventilation which for a long time has caused severe criticism by many passengers all over the country. There are not a few regular patrons who would much prefer riding in open cars in severe weather to using closed cars with no ventilation, or a system of furnishing pure air which involves the risk of catching cold. It is not strange that physicians endorse the proposition for the entire year, when they realize by their own experience and that of their patients that not a little of the sickness prevalent in winter is caused by the poor ventilation of crowded street cars. From this there is no escape by the larger number who travel in this way, because they have no other means of conveyance from home to office or to the shopping districts.

It is strange, though, that the managers have not done more than is apparent to the public to secure some better method of ventilating their cars than that which is in vogue on most lines, which is of such a kind as to make it almost impossible to obtain pure air without suffering from a draught or causing such an infliction on other passengers. It would not seem as though it could be impossible to discover some means which would accomplish its object without danger to those who ride in the cars, and yet if it is not impossible, why is it that no more satisfactory system has been devised? It is undoubtedly true that if these conveyances were ventilated properly there would be no demand for open cars in winter, but under the existing circumstances it is necessary to use such if one is to be free from danger and be at all comfortable while riding. There has long been a protest against these conditions and it is now taking form in a movement for the use of open cars during the cold weather months.

Of course it is not intended to make the use of these compulsory, for that would be as bad as compelling the use of closed cars. The plan is to run both kinds, so that passengers may take their choice and use open or closed vehicles as they prefer. There is no question that if this is done there will be many who will choose the open ones when the weather is pleasant, even if it is cold. At the same time, of course, there will be many others who will wish to ride in the closed cars in spite of the poor ventilation. It would be criminal to compel persons who are debilitated and subject to colds to ride in the open in severe weather, though it is not much less so to compel others who need fresh air to ride in cars which are objectionable by reason of bad ventilation. It would be a good plan to give people the opportunity to choose for themselves which kind they would prefer to use and not take it for granted that every one desires closed cars.

During the past two sessions of Congress, since the death of Senator Frye of Maine, the Republicans of the Senate have been unable to agree upon a president pro tem of that body, and There has been no regularly elected officer to preside in the absence of the Vice President. Now it is reported that the Democrats and progressive Republicans, or enough of the latter to make a majority, have agreed to break the deadlock and take the honor away from the Republicans, by electing Senator Bacon of Georgia, a Democrat, at the beginning of the regular session in December. The Senate now consists of 44 Democrats and 50 Republicans, but 12 of the latter are of the progressive stripe and most of them unwilling to vote for Senator Gallinger, the regular candidate. A defection of only four to the support of Senator Bacon will ensure his election.

A new phase of the labor trouble has developed in Chicago, where the Instrument Makers' Union objects to a number of violinists in the Musicians' Union playing old Cremona or Stradivarius instruments, instead of those bearing union labels. One man says he would not exchange his Stradivarius, which cost $750, for 10,000 union labels or for a carload of labelled instruments, and tells the manufacturers that they are mechanics and artisans, not musicians. The latter reply that "music from a tin pan would sound sweet to a true union man, if the union label was on the tin pan." The controversy is still on, and a committee will try to effect a settlement. In this case music does not seem to have sufficient charm to sooth the instrument makers' ire.

The cry, "Come over to Macedonia and help us," has again been answered. Macedonia, the region in which the Moslems have perpetrated the long series of atrocities which were the chief cause of the present war, is no longer a Turkish province, even in name. The victory of the Servians and the Greeks in that country was completed by the capitulation of Monastir, the second city of importance in Turkey, and these allies are now free to join the Bulgarians in their attack upon Constantinople. Only the capital of the country now remains to the Turks in Europe, and their humiliation is all but complete.

Without passing upon the justice of Miss Joanna Sullivan's claim against the city, the fact remains that unless the Board of Aldermen is exceedingly careful in paying claims for injuries received upon the streets they may become very numerous, involving a large annual expenditure of public money. With Newport's 91 miles of streets and 115 miles of sidewalk, it is physically impossible to keep every foot of the distance in such condition that no one can possibly fall and be hurt. The defense, in common law, of "contributory negligence" is in the line of equity.

Certain of the officials of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company are threatened with indictment for criminal negligence as a result of recent wrecks on that line. The opinion of men who use the road daily, going to and from New York, is that it is not safe for travel. Possibly President Mellen might better spend his time in improving the equipment of the road than in trying to buy up competing lines and making traffic agreements with others.

The movement for lower salaries did not start off very well. Instead of reducing those of the aldermen, the Representative Council retains them at the present figure, and increases that of the mayor by 50 per cent. Why?

If it is desirable for Newport to have a public playground, and most people will agree that it is, why not have one down town and one up town?

The Representative Council continues to be lavish with the city's money and apparently has little consideration for the interests of the taxpayers.

THE COST OF LIVING.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]

Some interesting details are to be found in the government report on the cost of living, but as a whole it only puts into formal statement what has been known to every housewife and every observer of market conditions for the last ten years. The bureau of labor's figures will be useful for quotation and reference. What the public needs most, however, is to know how the high cost of living can be reduced.

There are economists who say that it cannot be much reduced, owing to the great output of gold in the last few years and the probability that more gold per annum will be produced as scientific methods of mining develop. If this belief is sound an adjustment will come when everybody's income has been raised in proportion to the increase of gold, but that time does not seem near. Other students of the gold question, however, say the annual production is bound to diminish in a few years.

The argument expressed in the phrase "the cost of high living" may have application to many persons, and it is undoubtedly true that most of us would not like to live as our grandparents lived. But this does not explain the most significant rises in prices, those of the barest necessities. If crop reports prove correct, however, the harvest this year will surpass any before known and prices of food supplies ought to go down.

CARNEGIE'S BOND TAXES.

[New York Journal of Commerce.]

Andrew Carnegie's explanation of his course with reference to the taxation of his bonds is satisfactory and convincing. There can be no doubt that the present method of taxing personal property in cities is among the worst features of existing taxation. There is no question that a tax of, say, two per cent estimated on the principal of a four per cent bond, amounts to the confiscation of one half of the value so long as the investment remains in that form, since it renders that proportion of its worth unavailable for any purpose of use. There is good reason for complaining of the action of those who evade taxation even when they do so to avoid inequitable treatment, Mr. Carnegie, however, has complied with the law and is open to no criticism.

FEW AT FREE LECTURE.

Purposes and Functions of Rhode Island State College Explained by President Edwards.

The purposes and functions of the Rhode Island State College and what it offers to its graduates were explained Monday evening at the Rogers High School in a free lecture given by President Howard Edwards. It would seem that many Newport parents ought to be interested in this college, but there were not more than 35 or 40 persons present; so small an audience, in fact, that instead of holding the lecture in the assembly hall it was given in the little history room on the first floor. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Garden Aid Association of Newport.

Mr. Edwards began by explaining how the state college originated through the Morrill act, passed in 1862, and the funds received from the state and the nation for its maintenance. The government prescribes very distinctly what shall be done with these funds. Mr. Edwards spoke of the Universities of Wisconsin, California, Illinois and other gigantic state colleges, which he described as the arm of the commonwealth for progress. Of course these could not be supported by state funds alone. He also gave an idea of what these colleges aim to offer to their students.

The courses offered at the Rhode Island State College were outlined. They are along different lines—agricultural work, including horticultural; animal husbandry, history and development of forage crops, farm management, propagation of plants, floriculture, tree surgery and many other side lines which have to do with agriculture. Throughout each course it is offered to devote one third of the time to vocational training, or to enable a man to make a living more readily; one third to humanistic training and one third to an outlook on nature. The school feels that one of its most important duties is to make its men a help to society in so far as they are more readily able to take care of themselves and earn a good livelihood after they leave the college. There is also a well recognized course for women, which has never seemed to be fully appreciated.

Mr. Edwards referred to the experimental station at the college, which consumes fully one third of the funds. Another branch is the extension work, directed to help in a hundred different ways farmers who are in active life. He explained the many ways in which this department is helpful to farmers all over the state.

He spoke of the different lines of life work into which a course at the college may lead—farm management, teaching, investigating work and civil engineering. Without depreciating in any way the other courses, President Edwards said he considered the agricultural the most practical which any young man could undertake. Lastly, Mr. Edwards spoke of the emergency course, which is for boys who have left school to go to work and come back after realizing their mistake.

JAMESTOWN.

Historical Society Meeting—Propositions for Electric Light Franchise Coming Before Council.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

At the meeting of the Jamestown Historical Society held at Dr. Bates's sanitarium a good number, including some members from Newport, were in attendance—Thomas W. Bicknell, president of the Rhode Island Citizens' Historical Association, addressed the Society, expressing great pleasure at its formation, and assuring members that this was the first historical society to be formed in the state, outside of a city. Mr. Bicknell explained at some length the work of the Citizens' Historical Association, some of this already accomplished and some prospective.

He urged the members of the Jamestown society to perpetuate the memories of their ancestors by studying the family genealogies, and also to preserve as far as possible all old houses and land-marks, as these are of special interest in every community. He spoke interestingly of the different tribes of Indians owning Conanicut and adjacent lands; previous to its occupancy by the white man, and presented the society with two books of which he is the author, as a nucleus for a library.

A rising vote of thanks was given Mr. Bicknell on the adjournment of the meeting.

That electric lights will be at the disposal of the households of this town during the coming year seems to be an assured fact. At the meeting of the town council next Monday two propositions will be submitted for a franchise, one from a Providence concern to build and install an electric lighting plant within the town, the other from the Bay State Company, which will if granted the exclusive franchise run a duplicate cable from the power plant in Newport.

To bring this properly before the council Messrs. Gosling Norman and Sheffield of Newport were in town today. Mr. Norman, for the Jamestown Light & Water Company, will surrender the lighting franchise which that company holds. The Newport company does not ask the town to guarantee that it is to have the street lighting contract. A canvass of the town will be made before the meeting of the council, to secure the opinion of the taxpayers.

Mrs Brandels of New York was in town today, to inspect the work on her cottage under construction on Shoreby Hill.

Work has begun on a large barn on the Joseph Wharton estate at Beavertail.

COWS IN A ROSE GARDEN.

Five Rescued by the Pound Keeper, and Recovered by the Owner, on the Usual Payment.

Again Monday afternoon came to the police a call of distress which reminded them of days when the grass was not so green and cows had hard times finding good pasturage. Five cows were reported in Jurgens's garden on Bliss Mine road, where the carefully matured rose and other valuable plants were never intended for cow fodder. Thither went the pound keeper in haste, and the five bovines were led to the pound.

Then came Fischel David and claimed the strayers, but the pound keeper demanded the regular payment and David vowed he would never pay. He was going to see everybody about the matter. Perhaps he did, but the most important one he saw was the pound keeper, and when he had paid the sum demanded, according to law, the cattle were released to him. The chances are that there already has been a repairing of fences and that those cows will not again stray into any flower or other garden.

THE MOVING PICTURES OF THE POPE.

The moving pictures of Pope Pius X, now being shown at The Bijou Theatre, are worthy of especial interest in view of the fact that not only have few people visited the Vatican, but owing to the prominence of the Pope in history such a subject is of interest to everybody. The film used belongs to what is known as the more costly sort, and is a large reel. The general public have but a small conception of the expense attending the procuring of such a picture, and the infinite painstaking required to bring out the desired results, but the views are an education to those who avail themselves of the opportunity.

PERCHED ON A POLE.

Boys Come to Rescue of Frightened Cat, Which Had Been There Since Sunday.

Boys proved to be life savers today, when they rescued a cat from the top of a pole at Beach and Cottage streets. It had taken refuge there Sunday morning and ignored all previous attempts to rescue it. Just what frightened the cat will probably never be known, but it had been perched on the very top of the pole ever since. When it was taken down it beat so hasty a retreat that it is suggested that it may be running yet. The boys used ladders and a favorable roof, and one of them grasped the animal by the neck and pulled hard before he dislodged it. There had been talk on the part of the neighbors of calling upon the fire department with its ladders to do the work.

The cutter, which had just returned from rendering assistance to another schooner, at once started for the locality, but after cruising around until after daylight today failed to find any trace of the craft reported.

—A pleasant surprise was given at the home of Mrs. R. E. Cordon on Webster street Monday evening. —The covered wagon of Joe Rose, a farmer, was standing drawn up to the curb in front of the Newport Trust Company building this morning, when one of E. A. Brown's delivery wagons, coming up Thames street, rubbed hard against the side of the farmer's outfit, throwing the horse and causing considerable damage to the harness. The horse escaped with a few scratches. The damage to the harness, Rose says, will be paid for by the marketman.

SCHRANK INSANE.

Report as to Roosevelt's Assailant from District Attorney's Office.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 19.—A commission of five alienists today reported to Judge Bakus, finding John Schrank, who shot Colonel Roosevelt, insane.

Later Judge Backus denied that the commission of alienists had finished its work, adding: "If any member of the commission has given out advance information to the effect that Schrank has been held to be insane, I shall adjudge him to be in contempt of court."

It was learned from another source that the information that Colonel Roosevelt's assailant has been found insane came from the district attorney's office.

BIG FIRE IN LOS ANGELES.

Three Persons Killed in a Blaze at the St. George Hotel.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 19.—Three persons are known to have been killed and about 20 injured in a fire at the St. George Hotel, on East Third street, near Main, which started at midnight. The fire started on the second floor and drawn up through the elevator shaft, it spread so rapidly that those on the fifth and sixth floors who did not receive the warning in time were compelled to jump from the windows. Those who lost their lives jumped from the upper floors. The others were only slightly injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Bock, who were on their honeymoon, jumped from a sixth-story window. Mr. Bock will recover. Mrs. Ella Moran also jumped from a sixth-story window; she was killed.

Many had miraculous escapes from death and perhaps a score or more owe their lives to the heroism of Oscar Jones, who ran the single elevator of the hotel, making trips to the sixth floor with the small car packed with humanity until the flames and smoke made further trips impossible.

There were also a number of heroic rescues by the firemen. Mrs. Harrington, who was a member of a company playing at a local theatre, lost her life jumping from the fifth floor. Escape had been cut off, the only means having been a single stairway in the building, which was soon ablaze. She first tossed her 18 months old baby into the net held by the firemen and then jumped, but missed the net and sustained injuries which caused her death a short time later. The fire did comparatively little damage except to the upper floors.

ABERCROMBIE FIRST ON LIST.

Adair, "Bell Wether" of the House to be Supplanted in the Next House.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The official "bell wether" of the House, Representative John A. M. Adair of Indiana, will be supplanted in the next House. For nearly six years Mr. Adair has answered "aye" or "no" in starting every roll-call. His office will be gone when Representative J. B. Abercrombie of Alabama takes his seat, for Mr. Abercrombie alphabetically will take precedence of the Indiana Democrat and will raise his voice first when the roll is called.

There is some consolation in his fallen estate for Mr. Adair, however. The bell wether is supposed to be in his place whenever a roll call is begun and Mr. Adair, by reason of many sprints from his office to his place on the floor, in order to be on time to answer to his name, never has been able to put on many pounds in weight. The sprinting exercise now devolves upon Mr. Abercrombie during the next Congress.

MILITARY ORDER AMENDED.

Conditions in Lanawha Coal Field Reported as Serious.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 19.—In face of the fact that conditions in the Lanawha coal field were observed by military authorities to be as bad as they have been since martial law was declared, it was decided today to amend the order calling out four additional companies of the National Guards so that one company would take the field. These men will reach the disturbed region by noon today. The hundred armed men, reported as moving toward Paint Creek Junction with the expressed determination of shooting up the military headquarters, halted at Montgomery, four miles away, and were there this morning holding a council of war.

The Chesapeake & Ohio railroad management has sent 100 or more armed railroad officers into the Paint Creek section to guard its tracks and got in conjunction with the military.

A NUMBER OF LIVES LOST.

Son of Proprietor of Charlestown Boarding House Injured in a Fire.

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The death list resulting from a boarding house fire in Charlestown last night was increased today, when Willard Allenburg died at a hospital. Patrick Hawes of Halifax, Nova Scotia, was suffocated before rescuers could reach him. Morris Powers, son of the proprietor of the house, was thought to be fatally injured. A four-months old baby was rescued from the upper part of the building by five-year-old Fred Dolan, and six other children were saved by being dropped from first and second-story windows. The house, valued at $2,000, was destroyed.

PLENTY OF SIGNING.

Still Only Nine New Papers Are Filed, But They Will Soon Be Coming Fast.

There was a good deal of signing at the City Hall Monday evening, but the number of papers filed has increased only nine. They are: William A. Hanley, 30 Thames street, and Thomas C. Albro, Jr., for aldermen, ward 1; William J. Cozzens, Thomas P. Peckham and John P. Sullivan, for School Committee; and the following councilmen: Ward 1, George W. Bacheller, Jr., and John H. Marks; ward 2, J. Frank Albro, 12 Newport avenue; ward 5, John W. Blake and Robert J. Martin.

There are now filed six papers for aldermen, three for School Committee and the following for the council: Ward 1, 8; ward 2, 13; ward 3, 1; ward 4, 11; ward 5, 18; total 61.

Things will begin to happen pretty soon. Wednesday the Board of Aldermen will hold the first canvass of the voting lists for the city election and the Democrats will hold caucuses. Thursday the Republicans will hold caucuses and the time for filing nomination papers will expire. Friday is the last day for filing naturalization papers. Next Tuesday will be the last day for paying personal property taxes to qualify for voting. Wednesday of next week will be the day of the final canvass.

Councilman Joseph J. Kirby has taken out papers for alderman from the Second ward.

While the Third ward is not yet strong on papers they are out and signed and may be expected any minute.

It is a question if there is to be a contest for alderman in the Fourth ward.

Our aim is to give everybody worth of money always, and on special occasions more.

BRUNSWICK SCHOOL TEAM WINS.

Captained by Owens and Coached by Stevens of This City, Beats Its Rival, Berkeley.

Saturday at Greenwich, Conn., the Brunswick School football team closed a successful season by defeating its old rival, the Berkeley School of New York city, by the score of 19-0. Interest run high, as Berkeley had defeated all the strongest private preparatory school teams of Connecticut and New York. The Brunswick team was captained by Eddie Owens of this city, who made a good record at Rogers in sports. A report of the game says that, although 10 pounds lighter than any man on his team, Owens played a brilliant game, tackling fiercely and feature of the play. The Brunswick making several long runs which won it team was coached by Harry Stevens, also a graduate of Rogers and now a Senior at Columbia.

TO HEAR CARUSO SING.

Party at Apollo Hall Entertained by Latest Victrola and Edison Machines.

A party assembled by invitation in Apollo hall Monday evening to hear Caruso sing, with other famous soloists, and also to witness a display of fine moving picture films. Of course Caruso was not there in person, but the inventive brain of Edison has made possible the entertainment, which was no more than might be given in any parlor by the aid of the various machines used. While this was an invitation affair, tonight Barney will open the doors of his hall to the general public for a free concert and picture show.

That the moving picture machine, though a miniature, is no toy but a practicable and portable affair, is better understood perhaps when it is announced that the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association purchased one Monday for its work, where moving picture shows must be about right to give satisfaction. The music of the evening was rendered on the most improved Victrola and Edison machines fitted with the latest attachments and records.

WORRYING ABOUT WILSON.

Political Writers Fear Ability to Cope With the Situation.

Misgivings on the Side of Those Who Opposed Him, But Supporters Are Confident.

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Worrying about Wilson seems to be the chief occupation of many editors and political writers these days. It is all on account of Wilson's election as President and the difficulties he will have to encounter. These burden bearers fear Wilson will not be able to cope with all that confronts him. They doubt whether he will be able to select a cabinet which will help him. They feel assured that he will not have strong men in the Senate and House who will carry through his policies and check any enemies that may arise. They point out what is expected of the President elect and show how hard it will be for him to perform the duties.

And it must be confessed that most of the people who have so many misgivings are those who opposed Wilson for President, either at the Baltimore convention or after the nomination. His supporters seem to think that he will hold down his job.

It was at that famous dinner in Philadelphia, where Senator La Follette addressed the periodical publishers and broke down, that he turned to Governor Wilson, who had delivered a masterly address, and said, "Governor Wilson, if a progressive Republican cannot be elected President, I hope you will be." At that time La Follette also had hopes that he would be the progressive Republican chosen for President.

Secretary Stimson is certainly a Secretary of War after the President's own heart. During the time he has occupied the place he has been on the wing more than in his office. When he was secretary Mr. Taft was constantly traveling from place to place and went as far as the Philippines. He made frequent trips to Panama. In fact, the big ditch affords many a man an excuse for a junket.

It may be observed that the two-ship squadron which has gone to protect Americans in and about Turkey is commanded by a rear admiral. In the days before the Spanish war the squadron would have been in command of a commodore, the rank which has made the navy of the United States famous. But we have no more commodores on the active list of the navy. The last of the commodores were Dewey, Schley and Sampson.

It has always been claimed that owing to the fact that our squadron commanders were commodores they took second rank when they "met up with" foreign officers. So the commodore rank was abolished, and men who would have been commodores are rear admirals.

With the retirement of Senator Bailey from the Senate one has to marvel at the great change in the man since he first came to Washington as a young and new member of the House 22 years ago. Then he was aggressively pugnacious. He insisted that there should be a quorum in the House at all times; that nothing contrary to rules should be done.

When he was a member of the ways and means committee during McKinley's administration he refused an invitation to a White House dinner because he would not wear a swallowtail coat. In a dozen fashionable drawing rooms Bailey in swallowtail can now be seen. It has not been many months since he was heard to denounce automobiles most viciously. Now he has three.

The War Department is preparing to go into the horse breeding business for the purpose of furnishing horses for cavalry mounts. It is surprising that farmers do not protest against the government entering upon work which means taking a part of their market. If the government can raise its own horses, why not its own forage and other supplies? Before the horse farm proposition gets far we will probably hear from the farming communities.

It is not so very many years ago that President Roosevelt ordered all the marines from the battleships. Then Congress took a hand, for the marines are the pets of many Congressmen, and put into the statutes a provision that marines should be on every ship. And it is the marines who seem to be the fighters just now. They were at the front in Nicaragua, and they will probably land in Turkey if there is any fighting to be done for Americans.

It is quite interesting to note that the marine officers are composed of men who like the fighting service and cannot get into the army or navy. They have always been able to get to the front when there was danger and have kept themselves in the public eye as an effective fighting force.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Edgar H. Farrar of New Orleans today sent by telegraph to Chairman Pujo his resignation as associate counsel for the house banking and currency committee in the conduct of the so-called "Money Trust" investigation. ing "for an 8-hour day" and was then passed.

The following communication was received from the Newport Improvement Association:

"To the Representative Council: At the yearly meeting of the Newport Improvement Association, held September 2, it was voted that a communication be addressed as follows:

"That the Representative Council of the city of Newport be requested to take as prompt action as possible towards enforcing the removal of all overhead poles and wires on the public highways, in order to abolish one of the greatest disfigurements of the landscape."

A resolution was passed adding $500 to the appropriation for interest on bonded debt.

The following communication was received from the Park Commission:

"Resolved, That the Representative Council be respectfully requested to have a granolithic sidewalk laid on the Touro Park side of Bellevue avenue, between Mill and Pelham streets."

A claim was received from the Newport Water Works, for water used in constantly flowing fountains other than that on Washington square, in accordance with a decision of the supreme court which July 6, 1912, gave decision for $378 and costs, of $11.35 up to March 5, 1908; bill since to July 30, 1912: Water, $1,321.77; interest $165.05; total, $1,486.82.

The petition of Annie Raynor Wells, for refunding of taxes paid since 1908 on the Freeman house, then torn down, was referred to the assessors. There also went the petition of Grace W. Rives for remission of taxes.

The petition of Catherine Lorillard Kernochan, for repairs to Ruggles avenue, was referred to the street commissioner for an estimate. The same action was taken on petitions of Thomas Glover and others, to have Fillmore street curbed, graded and macadamized; of Bruce Butterton and others, to have Sylvan street graded and macadamized; of Edward N. Nawton and others, to have Lasalle place curbed, graded and macadamized, and of the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association, to have a sidewalk, curb and gutter on Meeting street.

The Board of Aldermen recommended that three arc lights on the beach road, between Cliff avenue and the Middletown line, which had been in operation summers only, be maintained the entire year, as the road is now dark and dangerous. A resolution appropriating $344.50 from the appropriation for beach lights was passed to maintain these lights, which were ordered installed.

A communication from the street commissioner to the Board of Aldermen, recommending the purchase of a quarry, was received; also, the petition for a gas light on Edward street.

The Board of Aldermen recommended that $1,500 be paid Miss Joanna Sullivan in full for injuries received by falling on Thames street and receiving permanent injuries, June 26. The accompanying resolution appropriating $1,500 for that purpose was passed.

The Board of Aldermen recommended that a contract be made with the Newport & Fall River Street Railway Company for three years for electric lights, in accordance with the bid submitted. Mr. Thompson suggested that a 10-year term be taken. Captain Cotton said the price would not be greater and might be less; there might be competition. The board was authorized to make the contract as suggested.

Mr. M. A. Sullivan asked for unanimous consent to elect Michael Stoneman an auctioneer. He was elected.

Captain Cotton presented his resolution appointing a committee of five to examine and report on the location of a police station on the south side of Market square. It was unanimously adopted.

A petition for repairs to Whitfield court was referred to the street commissioner for an estimate. At 9:40 the Council adjourned.

FREDERICK OLMSTEAD SPEAKS.

American Civic Association Convention Opens in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.—With an invocation by Cardinal Gibbons, the annual convention of the American Civic Association opened here today. Mayor James H. Preston welcomed the delegates to Baltimore. The morning's session included addresses in the nature of reports from the various associations whose work is in line with the aims of the civic association. J. Locke Wilson of Toronto told what the Ontario Horticultural Association had done to beautify the city of Toronto. Secretary Clinton Rogers Woodruff, secretary of the National Municipal League and editor of the National Municipal Review, its organ, discussed the municipal problems with which most American cities are now struggling.

Miss Lalla Mechlin of Washington told what the American Federation of Arts is doing to foster a larger appreciation of art, and Frederick Olmstead, the landscape artist, spoke of the work of the National Conference of City Planning, which for the past four years has been studying the problems of the city beautiful.

After the regular session the delegates and others interested gathered for a round table luncheon, at which short addresses were made on permanent topics.

Harvard Expects Hardest Game of Season With Yale Saturday.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 19.—The Harvard board of football strategy, in charge of the campaign against Yale next Saturday, ordered the 'Varsity team out today for the first of the two afternoons of hard scrimmaging. While convinced that Harvard has an eleven that as a whole is slightly superior to Yale, the Harvard coaches announced that they expected the hardest game of the season on Yale field. They anticipated that the full strength of the Crimson offense will be required to win.

Football experts are in agreement that Yale and Harvard have not disclosed all their plays. The experts are also in agreement that the winner must be hailed as the champion of the east, for with the exception of the Pennsylvania State College every other prominent team has been defeated.

The Harvard spectator army will commence its march to New Haven Friday and is expected to number over 16,000, the largest Crimson contingent that has ever visited Yale field. Thousands of Harvard applications for tickets to the game have been refused. Comparatively few Harvard men were fortunate in securing tickets in pairs and already the bid and asked price for pairs of seats has been quoted at $25 and $50, respectively.

Betting on the result of the game began today in financial circles, with Harvard the favorite at odds of 10 to 9. Many even money bets were also recorded.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper at 84¼, American Cotton Oil 59½, American Smelting & Refining 79, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe 107⅝, Brooklyn Rapid Transit 89½, Canadian Pacific 265½, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul 115⅛, Erie 31½, Great Northern Ore Certificates 46¾, Interborough Metropolitan preferred 65¼, Missouri Pacific 44, Northern Pacific 124⅝, Pennsylvania 123½, Reading 170½, Southern Railway 29¼, Union Pacific 174⅝, United States Steel 74⅝, United States Steel preferred 121¾, Wabash preferred 14½.

10—Declines in active issues were general at the opening of today's stock market. Canadian Pacific yielded over a point, with substantial fractional recessions in Bethlehem Steel, the Coppers, Reading and St. Paul. Minor gains were limited to a few specialties and the less important railway shares.

11—Pressure became more general, with especially large declines in many industrial stocks. Cotton Oil, which recently has been pushed up vigorously, fell 2 points.

Noon—Selling orders for fairly large amounts were executed in the important stocks in the early dealings and the whole market sagged, with pronounced weakness in certain stocks which were influenced by special considerations. Steel, Reading and Canadian Pacific bore the brunt of the selling among the active shares. Industrial issues gave way abruptly. American Brake Shoe preferred falling 8 points and various other specialities 1 to 4 points. With the reception of news from abroad that prospects for the ending of the Balkan war were brighter the market turned and by noon the favorite stocks had risen to a level with yesterday's close or above. Bonds were steady. Money on call, firm, at 5% per cent; prime mercantile paper, 6 per cent. Exchanges, $397,013; balances, $21,698,651.

AMERICA WINS AT HORSE SHOW.

Takes Highest Honors at First International Contest in New York.

Reginald C. Vanderbilt's Entries in Hackney Class Receive Number of Awards.

The United States took highest honors in the first big international contest of this year's national Horse Show at Madison Square Garden, New York, Monday. England won second prize and the United States third.

Chiswell, exhibited by the United States mounted service school and ridden by Captain Guy V. Henry, fifteenth cavalry, in competition with chargers mounted by uniformed army officers from England, Holland, Belgium, Canada and this country, was awarded the Plaza cup, value $200. Second award, $75, went to Harmony, ridden by Colonel P. A. Kenna, England, and third, $35, to Experiment, ridden by Captain J. R. Lindsey United States cavalry. All the mounts were broken chargers (heavy weight) up to carrying 210 pounds.

In the hackney class the entries of Mr. Reginald C. Vanderbilt won a number of awards. Enid, in the novice class for hackney fillies, was awarded the third prize. In the class for hackney fillies, three years old, Dollar Princess was given the third prize; for hackney mares Silfield Vera was awarded the third and Silfield Venus fourth and in the class for hackney stallions, four years old and over, the Sandy Point entry Wambly Sensation, which Mr. Vanderbilt recently imported, was placed fourth, the other prizes going to W. Briggs's Albin Wildfire, W. H. Moore's Marlboro and Clarence H. Mackay's Lang o' Burns.

Albin Wildfire, which won the blue ribbon in the last named class, is a five-year-old chestnut brought over from England for the Horse Show by Mr. Walter Briggs of Borwick, Lancashire, who arrived just in time to see his stallion win. Albin Wildfire is a son of the noted sire Polonius, three of whose sons were shown in this class.

Mr. Reginald Vanderbilt had two entries in the class for brood mares, one of which was Silfield Vera, a mare which he has never prized highly for breeding purposes, and the other Silfield Venus, every one of whose foals has been a blue ribbon winner. Venus was placed fourth and Vera third.

In the class for tandems J. W. Harriman's well known pair, Lady Dilham and Elegant Dilham, driven by "Jack" Donnelly, won over W. H. Moore's Menella and Phyllis.

NEW MEMBERS ELECTED.

Paper Written by the Late Dr. David King Read at Meeting of Historical Society.

The Newport Historical Society held a meeting Monday afternoon, with about 50 persons present. Rev. Roderick Terry, D. D., vice president, presided and at the business session the following new members were elected: Miss Louise Ward McAllister, Dr. A. J. Anderson, Louis L. Lorillard, Mrs. William Andrews, Jr., George A. Moriarty, Mrs. Frank L. Peckham, Mrs. John LaFarge and Dr. and Mrs. Philip E. Clark.

Mrs. William H. Birckhead read an interesting paper written by her father, the late Dr. David King, on William Coddington, governor of the colony from 1640 to 1647. It abounded in matter relating to the early days of the colony and the life of Coddington, some of which was collected in England by Dr. King.

Later Mrs. Richard C. Derby poured tea, assisted by Miss Antoinette S. Peckham, Miss Margaret Bloomfield and Miss Mabel Simpson. Miss Edith M. Tilley, librarian of the society, was in general charge of the meeting.

FOUND AFTER 18 YEARS.

Workman at Bar Harbor Unearths Silverware Stolen From George W. Vanderbilt.

After 18 years, silver ware stolen from the cottage of George W. Vanderbilt was recovered at Bar Harbor Monday. A workman, while digging field rocks near the Pinchot cottage, unearthed between 200 and 300 pieces of plated ware, and also a mail bag marked "George W. Vanderbilt."

When Vanderbilt's cottage was broken into in the night in 1894 a large amount of valuable jewelry and silver ware was stolen. Detectives worked on the case for several years, but no clew to the robbers was ever discovered. The robbers evidently hid the least valuable part of their plunder and did not consider it worth returning for.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. LAWTON.

Mrs. Carrie M., widow of William H. H. Lawton, who died at her home on Bridge street Sunday night, after a short illness, had been apparently as well as ever until Saturday. Late in the afternoon she suffered a shock and never regained consciousness, failing steadily until the end came.

Mrs. Lawton was a woman who by her agreeable manner and readiness to help others at all times had made many friends and retained her friendships. Her home life was especially happy. She is survived by four sons—James I. Fred E. Albert W. and George H. Lawton; two daughters, Mrs. Franklin P. James and Mrs. F. J. Sullivan; 29 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

THREE-YEAR CONTRACT.

Recommended by Aldermen for Electric Lighting—$1,500 to Settle the Sullivan Damage Claim.

The Board of Aldermen held a special meeting Monday evening, previous to the meeting of the Council. Mayor Boyle presided and all the members were present.

The matter of the claim for damages by Miss Joanna Sullivan, for injuries sustained by falling in the trench of the sewer on Thames street at the foot of Webster street on the evening of June 26, was taken up. The city solicitor called attention to the fact that the petitioner resided near this trench and must have known about it, and therefore there was contributory negligence on her part. This he thought would be agreed to by any jury. There was no question but there was a defect in the road and that it had existed for a year or so. There was a material difference in the testimony of the witnesses for the petitioner and the city.

The board began to talk about the claims—$200 for doctor, $60 for the Ebbitts' nursing, and loss of wages at $16 to $18 a week, together with lawyer fees. Mayor Boyle suggested $1,500, Alderman Shepley thought $1,000 would do. M. A. Sullivan, counsel for petitioner, said he had no doubt his client would receive the full amount, $4,000, if she went to court and the mayor answered that she should have gone to court.

Mr. Sullivan called attention to the differences in the witnesses for the petitioner; they were disinterested and one was a policeman. For the city they were all of the street commissioner's force and the street commissioner had given bond to see that the streets were kept safe; they were all interested persons.

Alderman McLeish asked who is liable in this case and the mayor said the city is plainly liable.

It was finally decided to recommend to the Council that the city pay Miss Sullivan $1,500 in full for any claims she has against the city on account of the fall, it being agreed that the results were permanent.

Then the matter of the electric lighting contract came up. The prices for all-night arc lights were 28.5, for one year, 27.5 for 3 years, 26.5 for five years and 25 cents per light per night for 10 years. This meant a saving of 3.5 cents per light per night on a 10-year contract. Mayor Boyle said 10 years is too long a term for a contract. He suggested that we may be using aeroplanes in 10 years. Things are changing fast. He suggested a three-year contract, which means a saving of one cent a light per night. This was finally decided upon and the board adjourned.

"LITTLE BOY BLUE'S" STORY.

Scenes Laid in Both Paris and Scotland and Music Reminiscent of Both.

The original music play of "Little Boy Blue" was first produced in Vienna, and subsequently in Paris and Berlin, and met with favor in each of these three cities named. During his trip abroad Mr. Savage secured the American rights and forthwith, after Americanizing it, produced it in New York. The original book was by Rudolph Schanzer and Carl Lindau, with music by Henry Bereny. The American adaptation of the book was made by A. E. Thomas and Edward Paulton.

The story has to do with "Boy Blue," supposedly the heir of an estate in Scotland, who has been missing and for whom his uncle, the Earl of Goberdeen, searches in Paris. This youth has a twin sister, and through the machinations of one Dupont, a detective, she is induced to assume boy's clothing and accompanies the braw Scotchman back to their native land to take up the duties of her brother in regard to the inheritance. Eventually it is discovered that she is a girl, but the brother turns up in time to save the situation. The scenes of the play are laid in both Paris and Scotland, and the music is reminiscent of both.

FOR NATIONAL MEMORIAL.

Petition to Secure Jefferson Home at Monticello Signed by Many at Council Meeting.

Mayor Boyle had at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, and also at the Council meeting before the members formally came together, a big petition from the Jefferson Monticello Memorial Association. This is one of many sent out by this association, asking Congress to secure the old home of Thomas Jefferson at Monticello as a national memorial, just as it now has the Washington home at Mount Vernon. The place has come into private hands and Mrs. Martin W. Littleton of New York is making a strenuous effort to induce the nation to buy and preserve it, this association having been formed to influence Congress to secure it. The petition was signed by many and will be at the city clerk's office for a few days, to give those who wish an opportunity to sign it, and will then be sent to the association for presentation to Congress.

BASKET BALL GAMES.

Torpedo Station Wins Second Game of Season—Galahad Squires Beat Y. M. C. A.

Monday evening the Torpedo Station basket ball team defeated the Constellation Guard, 24 to 15, thus winning its second game in the series. The play was close and interesting, the Constellation team leading at first, and the Torpedo Station, by the capital work of Williamson and Pahlow, cutting down the lead and pulling out ahead. Brodie and Rose did good work for the Constellation Guard. The line-up was as follows:

Score—Torpedo Station 24, Constellation Guard 15. Goals from floor—Pahlow 6, Williamson 5; Lopir 1, Catuna 1, Rose 5, Brodie 1, Miller 1. Goals from fouls—Williamson 2; Brodie 1.

The Galahad Squires defeated the Young Men's Christian Association Monday evening at the Galahad Club-rooms by the score of 8 to 4. The game was fast and exciting. Line-up and score:

APPROPRIATIONS ALL APPROVED:

Salary of Mayor Increased from $1,200 to $1,800, Aldermen Not Reduced,

Beach Improvement and Playgrounds Propositions Submitted—Temporary Police Station Killed

The Representative Council met Monday evening, for the first time since last July. There were 152 members checked as present and 43 unchecked as absent. Those who were present proceeded to do business rapidly and without unnecessary delay, but with a little talk, really considering the many matters on the docket. When the meeting was over, at 9:44, everything on the docket and considerable new business had been disposed of, not hurriedly but with neatness and dispatch.

The council paid its respects to the report of the committee on salaries by raising the compensation of the mayor $600, or to $1,800. This had been expected for some years. The salaries of the aldermen remained where they were, $500 each.

As had been expected, the Council declined the Fitts bequest. The Board of Aldermen had anticipated such action, though it had not recommended it. Its acceptance meant additional expense to the city. The sub-police station matter was defeated, after Mrs. Morrill had made an impassioned plea against bringing any part of the police station to Mill street. The main police station matter, however, was thereby revived. Mr. G. G. King was the mover, suggesting that a committee be appointed to see if a police station could not be built on the south side of Market square. This seemed to suit the Council and such a committee will be appointed.

The playground proposition was amended by making it two playgrounds for $30,000 and goes to the public in that form. The beach improvement matter was also sent along to the taxpayers, by a vote of 45 to 94.

The various transfers, including that of the fire department, virtually an extra appropriation of $586, were all adopted, as were the extra appropriations called for. Despite the fact that the weather promises to be unfit for laying granolithic sidewalks, one was ordered laid in front of St. Joseph's church.

The building inspector's sign ordinance went through without a murmur. The minimum pay ordinance was also passed, after some talk on both sides which was interesting and to the point. While no name was given as the father of this ordinance, it looks as though it came from Councilman Voigt of the Fifth.

The recommendation of the Board of Aldermen for three arc lights on the beach road was adopted, as was its recommendation for settling with Miss Sullivan and for the renewal of the street lighting contract.

Chairman Burdick presided and did his part to facilitate the rapid transaction of business, without appearing to hasten. There was no delay in starting things, as his gavel rapped promptly at 8 and the roll had been called at 8:09, showing 115 present. There were about 25 others ready to come in when the roll-call was finished.

After the reading of the records Chairman Burdick read the resignation of Councilman Peter G. Gerry of the Fourth ward and it was accepted.

The clerk read the report of the committee on salaries; at least, he started and had gone along to the figures, when Councilman Murphy suggested dispensing with the reading, as the members already knew the figures. The reading stopped and the report was received.

The committee on the Maria M. Fitts bequest reported that a bequest was made for keeping up the M. and E. Hammett Home; that the balance of the estate in the hands of the administrator for this purpose is $13,247.91, which sum is entirely inadequate and insufficient properly to carry out the provisions of said will; that there are now in the city of Newport at least two institutions organized and established for the purpose provided for in said will, and that the provision of said will for a new home to be used for purposes similar to these already established is unnecessary and unfeasible. The committee therefore recommended to the Council that said bequest be declined by the city. The report was received and on motion of Councilman Congdon the Council, in behalf of the city, declined the bequest.

The committee on police station, appointed at the meeting of the Council July 22, reported that it had organized by the election of Councilman Kerr as chairman and gave a public hearing August 6 in the Council chamber, which was well attended. The report says:

"The speakers dwelt upon the unsanitary conditions existing at the police station and spoke particularly of the fact that it is necessary to confine women, young girls and children in box-like compartments which cannot be kept clean, that are a source of danger to the health of those confined, that are surrounded by other cells in which are frequently imprisoned men in all stages of intoxication and compelled to listen to language of unspeakable nature and to associate with persons of hardened and desperate character, with the result that not only the health but the morals of the women and children prisoners are often lastingly injured.

"Your committee is familiar with the conditions at the station and is in thorough accord with the sentiments expressed by the advisory committee of the woman protective officer. It it our opinion that the building is wholly inadequate for the purpose for which it is used, that it is an unsanitary and unhealthy place for the housing of prisoners, not to mention the accommodation of the large number of police officers who are obliged to sleep there while off duty; that its condition is a reproach to the city of Newport, so well equipped in other respects with municipal buildings, and we assert that its existence should not be tolerated longer than the time necessary to erect a modern, adequate and sanitary building.

"Under the provisions of section 4 of chapter 351 of the General Laws, it is unlawful to detain juveniles under the age of 16 years in contact with or near adult prisoners, either in station house, court house or elsewhere. Newport has no facilities for observing this law and your committee has investigated several plans whereby the statutes of the state in this respect could be observed and the interests of the juveniles protected and safeguarded.

"After careful study we have reached the following conclusion: In the building on Mill street, occupied by the No. 1 Fire Engine Company, there is a space on the second floor 27 feet long by 8 feet 3 inches wide, this space being lighted by two large windows. This space is the eastern part of the large room originally used by the members of the fire company for social purposes and can be partitioned off without detracting from the usefulness of the rest of the room. The partitioned part can be divided in the centre, leaving a window in each room, thus providing one room for male and one room for female juvenile prisoners. The rooms would be convenient to the toilet and be easily heated in cold weather. The chief of the fire department has given its assurance that the use of this space for the purpose mentioned would in no way inconvenience his department.

"Although the criminal law recognizes no distinction between the sexes in regard to the place of incarceration of those arrested, should your honorable body deem it wise to have a separate place for the confinement of women prisoners there is an unfinished room in the No. 1 Fire Station building which could be adapted for this purpose. This room is also on the second floor, near the toilet, but is now a dark room. To make it habitable would necessitate the installation of a dormer window, the laying of a new floor and the necessary plastering, the total cost of which would be about $400. The cost of partitioning off the room for juvenile prisoners should not exceed $150. To this should be added the sum of $200 for necessary furnishings, making an aggregate of about $750 to prepare the places for the detention of women and juvenile prisoners.

"The care of the women prisoners would be in the hands of the police matron, and of the juvenile males by a police officer detailed for the purpose. It will thus be seen that the plan proposed by your committee does not necessitate the employment of any extra help by the city.

"Your committee wishes it understood that the plan as outlined is but a makeshift until such time as the city provides a suitable police station and the members are also anxious to have it understood that their action in recommending the use of a portion of the No. 1 Fire Station in no way indicates that they are committed to the erection of a police station immediately near that point.

"We submit herewith a resolution which would carry into effect our recommendations and we wish to express our thanks to the chief of police and to the chief of the fire department for the assistance they have rendered us."

Accompanying the report was a resolution appropriating $750, for fitting up and furnishing three rooms in the No. 1 Fire Station on Mill street, to be used for the retention of juveniles and women prisoners in accordance with the report of the committee.

Chairman Burdick said he had a request in writing from a lady who wished to speak on this subject. He took it for granted that the Council would be glad to hear her and asked her to come forward and speak. Mrs. F. C. Morrill, of 26 Mill street, daughter of Mrs. George Nason, came partly up the aisle and began to talk. She was urged to go to the chairman's platform, but evidently did not care to face the crowd and so spoke facing the chair. There were tears in her voice, as one listener said, before she closed, but she received hearty applause from all sections of the chamber and from members everywhere for her courage in coming forward and telling in plain language why she objected to making a sub-police station on Mill street, opposite her home.

She said her mother, now 73 years old, and she live there. If the fire station is turned into a sub-police station it will, in their opinion, greatly lessen the value of their property as a boarding-house and for salable purposes. The noise of the 500 children attending school and the noises incident to the engine house are all right, but it could be seen that the coming of the patrol with women of questionable character to the station would be detrimental to her place as a boarding-house and would tend to keep people from coming there. There are in the season people from all over the world there and it would mean a loss of hundreds of dollars to have a station house opposite. She hoped the members would see this in the light she saw it and think how they would like it to have a police station in front of their home.

Mr. John K. Walsh, who lives next door, also objected. He said the owners of property on Mill street have done their best to keep up the property, but the location of a police station in the neighborhood would detract from its value fully 50 per cent and he would be obliged to move.

Mr. Murphy moved to lay the resolution on the table. That seemed to be the sentiment of the Council and it was laid on the table.

Mr. Garrettson asked if the committee on police station is in existence, and the chairman said no. Mr. Garrettson thought something should be done. It is a disgrace for this city to have such a police station as it has.

Mr. W. R. Harvey said the site seemed to be the trouble and suggested that three sites be placed on the ballots and the citizens given an opportunity to select one.

Mr. G. G. King came to the rescue. It seemed to him that the south side of Market square is a site which would be unobjectionable. He did not know the owners of real estate there, but the station for many years has been located on the square and it seemed that there could be no objection to its continued location there. The present site is too small. A new and proper station should be built and the present site cleared to the harbor. This he thought could be done. This seemed a good idea and the members gave Mr. King's remarks applause.

Captain Cotton said it did seem as though the land of the Bowen heirs and Mr. Horgan could be acquired, if not by purchase than by condemnation It seemed to be an ideal site.

The Chairman said a resolution to that effect was in order and the matter was temporarily passed until such a resolution was prepared.

The report of the committee on the retention of the Constellation was received, the reading being waived. The accompanying resolution, which is as follows, was unanimously adopted:

"Be it resolved, That in view of the expressed intention of the Navy Department of the United States to ask Congress to provide for the maintenance of the Constellation as well as the Constitution and some others as national memorials, the Senators and Representatives of Rhode Island in Congress be requested to give their earnest support to such action, and that letters be addressed to the said Senators and Representatives by the chairman of the Representative Council and on its behalf to that effect, transmitting at the same time a copy of this resolution.

"A copy of all correspondence on the foregoing subject is transmitted herewith."

The next item was the resolution fixing the salaries of the mayor and aldermen. Mr. M. A. Sullivan moved that the salary of the mayor be fixed at $1,800, an increase of $600, and those of the aldermen at $500, the same as at present. He said the mayor is the first official of the city and it did not seem proper for him to be receiving very much less salary than many others. He named some of those receiving more and said he did not doubt they were worth it, but it did seem that the chief executive should not receive less, or so much less. For 18 years the salary of the mayor has been at $1,200; many other salaries have been raised and it is evident that the duties of the mayor have been greatly increased.

Mr. Garrettson asked how many hours a week the aldermen are in session. The city clerk was appealed to, but said he could not answer. The board met every week, and some weeks several times, and the sessions last from 15 minutes to several hours. Then there is the outside work done, of which he could fix no estimate.

Dr. Brackett, following the report of the committee on salaries, moved to make the mayor's salary $1,200 and the aldermen's $400 each.

The chairman as usual put the larger figure first. The chair was in doubt and a rising vote was taken, and it was announced that the increase in salary had been voted, 84 ayes and 60 nays. The salary of the aldermen was then fixed at $500 each, there being a few nays.

A communication was received from the School Committee, stating that at the meeting of the committee November 11 the following communication was received from the committee on playgrounds:

"Your committee on playgrounds recommend that this board request the Representative Council to place on the ballots for December 3, 1912, a proposition asking the people for an expenditure of $20,000 for an athletic field for all schools."

Accompanying this was the following resolution for submitting the proposition to the voters:

"Resolved, That the following proposition be submitted to the electors of this city qualified to vote upon any proposition to impose a tax or for the expenditure of money at the ward meetings to be held on December 3, A. D. 1913:

"Shall the Board of Aldermen be authorized to purchase an athletic field for the use of all schools and to spend therefor a sum not exceeding $20,000, to be derived from the sale of bonds of this city, to be issued under the direction of the Representative Council, of such amounts, at such rate of interest, payable at such times and upon such terms as the said Representative Council shall prescribe?"

This seemed not to suit the Point, or part of it, for T. E. Sherman moved to lay the proposition on the table and Mr. Friend seconded it. Only about 10 said aye and the motion was lost.

Mr. Kirby said that there should be two grounds. It did not seem fair to expect the children from down town to go out Broadway, or vice versa. Mr. J. F. Sullivan said a place could be secured, cheaply down town.

Mr. Garrettson said that down town has King and Morton parks and he thought it does not need a playground; he believed that more liberty should be given the children on the parks. Mr. Vaughan said the Park Commission had forbidden the use of the parks as playgrounds. Mr. M. A. Sullivan said base ball and similar games are forbidden on the parks. It
